Bardia Jungle Safari is an excellent wilderness safari in Bardia National park of Nepal. Park is situated in the mid far western Terai which is one of the remote parts of Nepal. It is about 560 kilometer from Kathmandu.

More than thirty different mammals, more than two hundred species of birds and different reptiles have been recorded within the park boundary. Thickly covered forest surrounded by peaceful villages of native ethnic groups. Bardia National park is the largest and undisturbed wilderness has more chances to see Tiger.

The best time to visit Royal Bardia National Park is from October through June

Bardia National Park can be reached by direct bus departing every afternoon from Kathmandu, Pokhara and Chitwan National Park.

BY Land: Buses reach at Ambassa, the turn off for the Park, at approximately 3 a.m. to 6 a.m. Forest Hideaway Hotel & Cottage is 13 k.m. from Ambassa. You will be received at Ambassa by our staff, and transferred to the hotel. We will have private transport by car/Jeep/Van/Bus according to the group size as well.

By flight: Flights are available daily from Kathmandu to Nepalgunj. Upon your arrival at Nepalgunj Airport, you will be transferred to the resort by Jeep, which takes 2.5 hours from the airport.

What to bring

Binoculars, Flashlight, A jacket or sweater from November through February. Lightest clothing with sunglasses and hats from April onwards. Pants should be worn during elephant rides. Bright colors such as red and white should be avoided since those colors have been known to upset the rhinos. Comfortable walking shoes are essential.
