<https://www.nectravels.com/package/gokyo-lake-cho-la-pass-trekking/>

Gokyo Lake Cho La pass treks provide an excellent opportunity to see an eyeful of Mount Everest at close range. This trek is to be considered as an alternative trek to the traditional Everest Base Camp trek that offers a magnificent view of the mountain peaks and Ngozumpa Glacier.

The image of this region is associated with the magnificent view of the most popular mountain view of Nepal like Mt. Cho-Oyu (8153m), Mt. Everest (8848 m), Mt. Lhotse (8501m), Makalu (8463m) which are clearly visible from Gokyo Ri (5483m.) above Gokyo Lake. One of the most remarkable features of the trek is the view of the tremendous ice ridge between Cho Oyu and Gyachung (2922m) located in Khumbu region.

This extraordinary trek is also worthy in a sense that it offers an ample opportunity to explore the amazing destination and its impressive sight which is beyond human imagination.
