

Kathmandu Rim Valley Hiking

<https://www.nectravel.com/package/kathmandu-valley-rim/>

Kathmandu rim Valley trekking is comparatively easy hiking. It takes you along the rims of the Kathmandu Valley offering fantastic views of snowy mountains extending far off into the distance. You can see the beautiful views of the mountains, Sunset, Sunrise, Landscape & culture of different ethnic groups. This hike starts from Sundarijal and ends at Panauti. From Panuti, drive back to Kathmandu.

Itinerary

Day 01: Drive Kathmandu to Sundarijal then trek to Chisapani (2300 m)

Take your breakfast in the morning and get ready to start the adventure of the day. Drive for about half an hour to Sundarijal, a village in the outskirts of Kathmandu. Start the walk of the day. All the uphill walk for about five hours takes you to an amazing place in Chisapani where you will spend the night today. As you take a very paced walk up towards Chisapani, you will come across beautiful forested areas, local villages and villagers. You will enjoy the nature and the culture of the area. Stay at a tea house in Chisapani.

Day 02: Trek Chisapani - Nagarkot (2100 m)

Wake up to a nice and fresh morning. Take your breakfast and start the walk of the day. It will take about seven hours to reach Nagarkot, a stunning view point and a nice country side. You will again walk the trail enjoying the nature and culture passing through forested areas and villages overlooking the mountain ranges in the background. Once you reach and check into your hotel in Nagarkot, you might like to go for a nice walk around the village.

Day 03: Nagarkot hike to Dhulikhel (1975 m)

Walk another day of about six hours to another beautiful town of Dhulikhel. As you walk along the trail, mountains are still there stretching along. Enjoy the nature and culture walk today as well. Reach Dhulikhel, check into the hotel, and relax. You might like to go out for a walk around the town.

Day 04: Trek Dhulikhel-Namobuddha (1982m)

After having breakfast, start a hiking up to Namo Buddha (1982m.) We hike all the way through local villages and rice terraces. After hiking 3 to 4 hour we will arrive at Namo Buddha, a sacred Buddhist place where Lord Buddha saved the life of a tiger dying from hunger. You can have a breathtaking view of mountains, valleys and hills and touch Newari culture.

Day 05: Trek Namobuddha-Panuti & drive back to kathmandu

After breakfast, continue walking to the Typical Newari village of Panauti . This traditional Newar settlement has a particularly rural character and a variety of farm products are offered for sale throughout the town. Panauti boasts a large number of fascinating temples. This village is connected to our religion. According to a historical myth it is believed that the entire valley of panauti rests in a single stone underneath. There are also several years old temples. Late Afternoon drive back to Kathmandu.