

Phulchoki Day Hiking

<https://www.nectravel.com/package/phulchoki-day-hiking/>

Height: 2,782m

Highlights: Sub-tropical forest, breathtaking views of the Kathmandu Valley and views of Annapurna and Gaurishankar mountains.

Hike Duration: 6 to 7 hours

Phulchowki is the highest hill near Kathmandu and is situated to the south of the city. To get there you need to drive to Godawari (14 km south of Kathmandu), where you start the hike. You will be able to see sub-tropical thick forests filled with rhododendrons and oak trees as well as several species of orchids, butterflies, and birds. From the top you get a breathtaking view of the valley and on clear days you can see the eastern parts of the Annapurna range to Gaurishankar in the east. While you are there, why not check out the Botanical Gardens in Godawari.

Itinerary

Day 01: Phulchoki Day Hiking.

After Breakfast pick you up from Hotel by our guide at 8.00am. You will drive to Godawari for an hour. The hike from Godawari takes 4-5 hours to reach Phulchoki and back to Godawari botanical garden. You will have lunch on the way to Phulchoki. You will explore around Phulchoki with the beautiful mountain views and Jungle. Late afternoon drive back to Kathmandu. Trip ends.